Whistleblowing in the NHS – how to best protect oneself from the costs and consequences

On 6 November 2024, the Medico-Legal Journal published a talk by BDBF Managing Associate Samantha Prosser on Whistleblowing in the NHS.

The talk was given at a meeting of the Medico-Legal Society on 13 June 2024.

Read the full article here, or click on the image to view the PDF.

FOUNDED 1901 VOLUME 92 PART THREE 2024 ISSN 0025-8172

Medico-Legal Journal

PUBLISHED QUARTERLY FOR THE MEDICO-LEGAL SOCIETY

www.medico-legalsociety.org.uk

Editor:
Mrs Diana Brahams

Medical Editor:
Ms Eleanor Jane Turner

The right to privacy for people in the public eye. Can hospital information technology systems keep their data safe from threats?
The Fixated Threat Assessment Centre
When things go wrong – consent, manslaughter and clinical negligence
Simulation-based training in cardiology/The role of simulation and AI in education
Diagnostic errors in rheumatology and medico-legal consequences
Medical malpractice and cerebrospinal fluid shunts: An analysis of 36 cases
Brute forcing on secured shell servers emphasising the role of cyber forensics – a quali-quantitative study
Reverse case in child sexual abuse
Death of a child due to venom toxicity following multiple honey bee stings: A case report
Post-mortem tetramorphism: Four morphological changes within the same corpse

The Royal Society of Medicine Journals